

Committee Will Consider Most Vexing Problem

Second Full Session of Naval Conference Refers to Special Committee Old Question of How to Measure Sea Power—May Adopt French Plan.

London, Jan. 30 (AP).—The entire question of how to measure naval power—whether by total tons, or by guns in separate categories—a problem which has vexed naval limitation negotiations for years, was put today in the hands of a special committee by the London naval conference.

This plan of treatment was adopted on the motion of Secretary Henry L. Stimson, American delegation head, at a full session of the conference presided over by a general in command of the British fleet, but marked nevertheless by plain reticence on the part of the British.

Mr. Stimson's proposal was accepted unanimously although Italy gave notice that she felt her claim for parity with France should have precedence and that she would accept the decisions regarding limitation methods only on condition that she have a day in court later.

The Italian dissent was presented in pungent phrases by Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister, known by everyone to speak the full determination of Premier Mussolini. He declared that while the whole party question might be left aside, Italy was willing that the physical terms of limiting navies be considered.

In the end, therefore, Colonel Stimson's motion had a unanimous vote.

French Compromise Plan.
The French compromise plan was presented by Andre Tardieu, the arrangement he proposed permitting shifting to a limited extent of tonnage from one class to another to satisfy national needs within the total tonnage allowed. Neither he nor any other of this morning's speakers got down to cases or mentioned any exact figures.

Hugh S. Gibson, American ambassador at Brussels and veteran of the abortive Geneva conference, detailed in the conference how the United States had always stood for limited limits in each category, but now, not to stand in the way of negotiations nor to impose its will on other nations, was ready to consider the French compromise.

Under Secretary Stimson's proposal the original plan of a steering committee of two delegates from each country was scrapped. In private discussions the preponderance of British representation on such a committee had been raised sharply in view of the presence here of representatives of all the dominions.

The committee members now actually will be named by heads of the delegations and operate through them with the unanimous agreement necessary for any conference action.

Sees Solution of Old Question.
It was not considered likely that any of the delegates would serve on the committee which probably would be made of a definite number of advisers. After the plenary session adjourned, since the Premier MacDonald, the chairman, expressed the view that the conference now was in measurable distance of a solution to the old problem of global or total tonnage limitation by war categories.

Private conferences were resumed as soon as the session ended. One of the most conspicuous was between Premier Tardieu and Colonel Stimson at which Mr. Tardieu further expanded the French compromise plan. Colonel Stimson and Reifiro Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation, also had a short talk.

It was the second full session of the conference since its convening more than a week ago, and for the first time since then was open to newspapermen, a privilege secured by the press by the American Senators, Robinson and Reed, members of the American delegation.

The French delegation laid down formally its plan of measurement of navies, which now appears certain of acceptance.

Limit Tonnage but not Class.
It provides that the total tonnage of each Navy be fixed but with each nation permitted some latitude in determining what type of ships it will build.

The British laid down supplementary suggestions on the same subject, and Italy proposed that the next step should be to consider translation of these principles into actual tonnage figures. The Americans and the Japanese said that at the present stage they had no topics to propose.

Premier MacDonald, in opening the session, said the results of conversations which had been going on between the various national delegations had been most gratifying, "up until now."

Results So Far Gratifying.
He then explained that the various delegations had to exchange views in order to remove misunderstandings, "and to pave the way for compromise and agreement," and that while results may appear slow to some,

Criminal calendar for the January term of County Court opened Thursday morning with defendants in four cases pleading guilty. Judge Joseph M. Fowler is presiding at this term of court.

Cecil Lasher pleaded guilty to a charge of assault in the second degree in town of Lloyd and was sentenced by the court to Clinton state prison for five and one half years.

Earl Canfield pleaded guilty to a charge of assault in second degree in town of New Paltz and was given a suspended sentence to Elmira state reformatory because it was his first offense. He was ordered to report regularly to Probation Officer Robert Service.

Charles J. Deacher and Albert J. Smith, charged with second degree assault in the town of Ulster, on October 17, were brought before the court this morning. Deacher pleaded guilty, but his sentence was postponed until Wednesday on a request from N. LeVan Haver, defendant's counsel. Smith pleaded not guilty and Daniel Hoffman was assigned by the court to act as his counsel.

Mrs. Gertrude Jones of Kingston was sentenced to pay a fine of $250 or spend 100 days in the county jail. She pled guilty to charges of maintaining a disorderly house and public nuisance at the November term of court, and sentenced was postponed until this morning.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT 48 YEARS OLD TODAY
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP).—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt is 48 years old today.

The anniversary will be observed at the executive mansion tonight with a dinner to which a few personal friends have been invited.

The governor was born January 30, 1882, at Hyde Park, where he still maintains a residence.

New $500,000 Plant Wrecked.
Fresno, Cal., Jan. 30 (AP).—An explosion today wrecked the new $500,000 absorption plant of the Petroleum Securities Company in Kettleman Hills oil fields, south of here, killing one man and apparently trapping four others in the flaming ruins. At least two other men were injured. An explosion in a tank within the works started the fire, the flames spread as burning oil from the tank splattered through the plant.

They were to those who knew the situation "gratifying up to now."

Mr. MacDonald said he wished to state before dealing with the proposed appointment of a steering committee that Italy regarded the two points mentioned opposite its name (determination of ratios and levels of total tonnages) as being clearly concerned with principles rather than with methods of limitation.

Mr. MacDonald added that Dino Grandi wished to make his position clear so that there would be no misunderstanding either here or in Italy. He then called on Signor Grandi who in beginning commented that it was evident the six points contained in the agenda raised problems that could not all be placed on the same plane.

Abolition of Submarines.
It was disclosed today, among other things, that the Americans and British still were hopeful that the conference would discuss abolition of submarines. However, there was much opposition apparent, particularly on the part of Japan and France.

The United States still insisted, however, that when the time for discussion of actual categories arrived, the troublesome cruiser problem which disrupted the Geneva conference be taken up first. The Americans believed that after this question was settled the submarine problem could be considered with some prospect that if under sea craft were not actually abolished, humane rules for their use could be agreed upon.

Colonel Stimson would leave discussion of battleships until the last. The Americans still seemed confident today their program would prevail.

Captain Ulster Davis Is Dead

Veteran Navigator of The Hudson Dies of Carbon Monoxide Poisoning From The Exhaust of His Automobile.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP).—Captain Ulster Davis, 65, veteran navigator of the Hudson river, died today of carbon monoxide poisoning from the exhaust of his automobile. He was found unconscious in his garage with fumes pouring from the car and was taken to a hospital but died on the way.

"Cap" Davis, as he was known all along the Hudson river, was born in Rondout and entered the shipping business at New Baltimore in 1880, operating three river steamers for several years. He moved to Ithaca, across the river from Albany, 40 years ago, and 15 years later organized the Albany Steamboat Company. Later he sold his holdings in that company and became Albany manager of the Cornell Steamboat company, operating vessels between Albany and New York. He resigned from that company in 1916 and entered the contracting and wrecking business, operating a large fleet of dredges and sand suckers.

He was recognized as an authority on Hudson river navigation and was a firm advocate of the proposal for deepening the river to accommodate ocean traffic.

He was president of the Masters, Mates and Pilots Association, a director of the Besselaer Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the Albany Club. He is survived by his widow and one son, Robert.

Lunn Assails 'Phone Attorney

Albany, Jan. 30 (AP).—A charge by Commissioner R. Lunn, that representatives of the New York Telephone Company were "making up statements out of whole cloth," precipitated an uproar today in the hearing before the Public Service Commission on the proposed increased telephone rates.

The excitement was added to by Commissioner Lunn's description of the company's counsel, Edward L. Blackman, as a "cheap village lawyer."

The refusal by Blackman, for the second time, to file with the commission the proposed rate schedule or to refrain from putting into operation the increased rates until examination by the commission, was the immediate cause of the trouble.

"This," declared Commissioner Lunn as he leaped from his chair and shook his finger at Blackman after the latter's refusal, "is a miserable attempt of a cheap village lawyer."

Blackman told the commission that Commissioner Lunn had said the company's addition of $133,000,000 to its 1929 valuation should be reduced.

"You are trying to credit me with that statement," replied the commissioner, "but that is your method and always has been the method of your company for years. You made that up out of whole cloth and I am not going to let you get away with it."

Blackman received the Lunn attack with a smile and the statement he was "merely quoting newspaper interviews."

"I never gave such an interview," Lunn declared.

Chairman William A. Prendergast then attempted to smooth out the trouble, an action which produced from Commissioner Lunn the remark concerning the wordy clash:

"That goes out and your (Blackman's) record goes out of the record too. If you want a debate, I'm ready."

"This is no place for a debate," Chairman Prendergast interposed. "Make him sit down or I'll stand right here and say what I think." Commissioner Lunn snarled at the chairman and continued, "we'll take out some of the $133,000,000 and you can be sure of that."

"Didn't you determine that before this case started?" queried Blackman.

"No," roared the commissioner. Chairman Prendergast murmured that "this looks to me like another four-year case" as Commissioner Lunn sank back into his chair.

"The body of Peter Trans was brought to surface 7:30 this morning. Doctors now examining body." Trans had been under the icy waters of the Ontario river since Monday morning, a period of almost 72 hours when the two divers, who had flown there from Montreal, brought his body to the surface today.

Fight Against New Phone Rates

Federal Court Rulings Carefully Scrutinized by Albany Authorities—Asks Court Injunction.

Albany, Jan. 30 (AP).—The state was expected to take the first strides today toward blocking the proposed telephone rates increase, scheduled to take effect February 1.

Working against time, Governor Roosevelt, the law department and the public service commission reviewed in every detail the federal court ruling restraining the state from enforcing rates previously fixed by the commission, and held by the U. S. district court to be confiscatory.

Governor Roosevelt has shown reluctance to appeal to the U. S. supreme court from the latter decision, indicating he believes in the possibility of settlement by the state. This also is the commission's attitude.

The second session of the commission's telephone hearing is scheduled for today.

The governor last night was firm in his conviction that "no public utility corporation can enforce rates without the approval and authorization of the duly constituted state authority."

"If we are to have a change in our method of regulating public utilities," the governor said, "such as is advanced in this telephone case, we must proceed to an ultimate conclusion."

Asks Court Injunction.
New York, Jan. 30 (AP).—J. K. Clark, president of the Community Councils of the City of New York, today sent to William A. Prendergast, chairman of the public service commission, a telegram requesting the commission to apply for a court injunction restraining the New York Telephone Company from enforcing its proposed increased rate schedule.

Mr. Clark sent his wire after a meeting of the council's board of governors in the municipal building. The Telephone Company's new rate schedule is scheduled to go into effect Saturday.

"By its challenging and defiant attitude the New York Telephone Company, a creature of the state, has set itself above the authority of the state from which it derives its powers," the telegram said.

"We believe that the Public Service Commission, on its own initiative, should answer this challenge by applying for an injunction restraining the company from putting into effect its proposed illegal rate schedule."

Says Rates Are Illegal.
"The schedule of rates is illegal in that it is not based upon a fair valuation of its properties as determined by the statutory court. Additions to the rate based from July 1928, to July 1930, amounting to considerably more than $100,000, have been arbitrarily fixed by the Telephone Company and have not been approved or authorized by the Federal court or any other official body."

"Furthermore, their arbitrary increase is based in part upon speculative figures as to 1930 income and expenses not passed upon by any court or by the Public Service Commission representing the consumer."

"The proposed rate increases arbitrarily fixed by the Telephone Company are not fairly distributed among its subscribers," Mr. Clark concluded.

COLLISION ON ICY ROADWAY AT HURLEY

An oil truck of the Kingston Oil and Fuel Distributing Company, Inc., driven by Edward Kidney, on Wednesday morning about 10 o'clock skidded on the icy roadway and the rear end struck a Nash car driven by William Bonesteel of 12 Murray street, at Hurley. The accident happened at a turn in the highway near the school house in the village, while Mr. Bonesteel was driving his auto to Kingston. The oil truck, coming around the turn, sideswiped the Nash and wrecked the body. Both vehicles were going slow. Mr. Bonesteel was bruised about back, arms and legs, but an examination at the Benedictine Hospital showed he had no broken bones and no injuries to his head. Investigation made by Deputy Sheriff Albright, who went to the scene of the accident, convinced him that the accident was unavoidable. The icy and slippery condition of the road causing the mishap.

Bishop Anderson Dies in Chicago

Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States, Dies of Heart Attack.

Chicago, Jan. 30 (AP).—The Most Rev. Charles Palmerston Anderson, presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States of America, died today.

Death came at 8:42 a. m., the result of a heart attack nine days ago from which Bishop Anderson never rallied. He was 64 years old.

Bishop to the Chicago diocese for a quarter of a century, he had been raised to the Primacy of his church only two months ago. His health had been apparently good, despite a weak heart, until the fatal attack January 21, a few days after the Bishop had returned from an eastern trip.

Mrs. Anderson and their four daughters were called to the bedside early this morning.

The passing of the Episcopal Primacy leaves his church without a head and his diocese without Bishop or Coadjutor Bishop. An election of Coadjutor Bishop who would succeed Bishop Anderson was called yesterday, scheduled for the Diocesan Convention here next Tuesday.

A special meeting of the House of Bishops will be necessary to choose a new presiding Bishop, since no provision is made for an automatic succession.

Bishop Anderson had been elected at such a meeting last November 12 in Washington, after the death of most Rev. John Gardner Murray, October 3. He assumed the additional duties immediately.

Winter Again Visits South

Atlanta, Jan. 30 (AP).—Chilling winds which sifted snow and churned up gales along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts brought winter to the south again today.

Small buildings were unroofed in Mississippi, and as the cold wave swept eastward snow reached a depth of nearly nine inches at Bristol, Va. A tornado hit two Florida counties, killed a negro woman and damaged property.

Off Wilmington, N. C., rough seas for 12 hours buffeted a tug boat carrying seven men before the craft reached a village south of that city. Three negro fishermen were believed to have drowned when their schooner capsized off the Mississippi coast.

A fall of three and a half inches of snow in Atlanta broke a 13 years' record. Snow fell in Vicksburg, Miss., covered the ground at Birmingham, Ala., and blanketed Johnson City, Tenn., with eight inches. A six-inch snow held a bus party of 100 at Franklin, N. C. Snow accompanied high winds throughout Virginia.

Sub-freezing temperatures were the rule in Dixie last night and continued cold was forecast today with a slowly rising mercury tomorrow.

FAVORABLE REPORT ON TRANSFER BILL

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP).—By unanimous consent, the House expenditures committee today ordered favorably reported the Williamson bill to transfer the prohibition enforcement bureau from the treasury to the justice department, with amendments.

The measure was amended to permit the treasury department to issue permits for the withdrawal of industrial alcohol under regulations to be prescribed by the attorney general. Under the original provision the attorney general would have drawn up the regulations jointly.

The bill also was amended to change the name of the new bureau of industrial alcohol and narcotics under the treasury to merely the bureau of industrial alcohol. This action was taken, Chairman Williamson of the committee said, in order to prepare a way for the other measures now under consideration for the setting up of a separate bureau to handle permits dealing with narcotics under the treasury department.

Wets Welcome Dry Law Hearing

Washington, Jan. 30 (AP).—Congressional wets were busy today planning an intensive assault upon the etidat of prohibition to be launched in open hearings before the House Judiciary committee on measures proposing that the Eighteenth Amendment be repealed.

The anti-prohibitionists frankly are gratified at the prospect of a thorough investigation of conditions under the dry laws. They are preparing to take full advantage of this opportunity, for which they have clamored for many months.

A spectacular battle, reminiscent of the inquiry conducted a few years ago by a Senate committee under need of Missouri, is expected to result, as the drys, too, are making their preparations and intend to present a vigorous defense.

Wet strategy is expected to resolve into a concentration of effort upon the one or two measures thought more likely to be approved by the committee. Representative Blumhagen of Maryland, a Democrat, chairman of the unofficial House wet organization, is inclined to favor a resolution by Representative Sabath, Democrat, Illinois, as the one that should be vigorously pushed.

This measure proposes an amendment to the Eighteenth Amendment, under which Congress would be empowered to govern the manufacture, transportation and sale of liquors under government permits and in packages.

Another proposal highly favored by the wets is that of Representative Mary T. Norton, Democrat, New Jersey, for national referendum on the question of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment.

The hearings are to begin on February 12.

Kingston: "Sunny Side Up." Enough cannot be said about this show. Janet Gaynor surely can sing, and so can Charles Farrell. The story is made for them. One scene, "Turn On the Heat," in which an Eskimo village becomes a desert oasis is extremely clever. Don't miss it.

WAGE FIGHT TO SAVE ANCIENT COURTHOUSE

St. Louis, Mo.—Although St. Louis' stately old courthouse, where the only decision freeing a slave was ever returned, will soon be abandoned, it may still be retained as an historic landmark, even though it will be stripped of its official dignity.

The courthouse, which was once "the best in the west," has been replaced by another, a bigger and better one, and now official St. Louis is about to forget the old edifice.

The heirs of the donors of the site where the old courthouse stands, however, are not so forgetful, and, with an array of legal talent among them, they are preparing to recover the property which their ancestors once gave to the city.

Property Given in 1822. The recovery of the property, though valued at more than $1,000,000, is not for commercial possibilities. Instead the descendants of the once owners of the ground want to insure the old structure against the possibility of its being razed.

The site, which is to be the basis of the suit for the recovery of the property, was given to the city of St. Louis in 1822 by two leading citizens of that period, J. B. C. Lucas and Auguste Chouteau, in assigning the property to the city they specified that it should always be used for the site of the County court.

Legal opinions advanced on the case differ. Some believe that the property can be recovered because it will not be used in the future. Others point out that it was given to the city for use as a County court—and St. Louis is no longer a county. They claim that the suit should have been instituted when the city and county were separated.

The Dred Scott Case.

This structure has housed the administrators of justice for over a hundred years, and decisions made within its walls have played an important part in the affairs of the city as well as the nation.

Its steps were once used as an auction block for slaves, and in one of its chambers the slave Dred Scott was adjudged a free man.

The Dred Scott case drew national attention, since it was a test of the claim of a negro that because his master had taken him to a territory where slavery was prohibited he was a free man and could not be inherited as a chattel upon his master's death.

An upheaval among the ranks of slave owners was felt when the court upheld the negro's contention, but the case was carried to the state Supreme court and the decision was reversed.

The negro was then sold to a New Yorker from the steps of the court which had a short while before made him free. With his sale to an owner where he would have to be transported Dred Scott took his case to the federal District court and then to the United States Supreme court in vain.

Accuses Daughter of Fraud in Mortgage Case

Boston.—A mother accuses her daughter of gross fraud in a bill in equity filed recently in the Middlesex Superior court at East Cambridge.

Mrs. Alice S. Parker of Everett, through her attorney, Jennie Lohman Burton, asserts in a bill of complaint that her daughter, Mrs. Fannie A. Moses and the latter's husband, Samuel R. Moses, both of Everett, fraudulently obtained a discharge of a mortgage on land in Everett through deceit practiced on her, and asks the court to set the discharge aside.

The mother says that about September 23, 1923, her daughter obtained title to land at Kenwood road and Shute street in Everett, giving a promissory note. Mrs. Parker recites that on certain representations made to her a few months ago which constituted fraud, she executed a discharge of the mortgage she held. She further says no consideration was ever paid her for discharging the mortgage, and asks the court to enjoin her daughter and her daughter's husband from transferring the land. The case will come up for a hearing later.

Corpse Wished on Man by Snow-Bound Cortège

Lafayette, Ind.—Harry Golden, who lives six miles west of here, has a blizzard guest who is allent, contented and easy to entertain, but Golden was trying recently to oust the visitor. The guest is the corpse of Warren Trickett, sixty-nine.

Twenty friends lashed Warren in a hearse and, riding in six automobiles, started to bury him in Painesville. The snow drifts marooned the funeral. The corpse was lifted out of the hearse and carried into Mr. Golden's parlor, the nearest shelter. After a long struggle after 72 hours in the snow blockade, they left the remains of Mr. Trickett behind.

Man's Tobacco Bill

New York.—Although he spends his life enveloped in them, man spends less for his clothes than he does for tobacco.

The average American buys 1.57 suits, 1.3 pairs of shoes, and a ribbon-hand or so less than two hats yearly. More than a billion dollars every year is spent by men in this country for clothes. They pay more than that to smoke, chew and snuff.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Joyce Kilmer Park has been dedicated as a memorial to the newspaperman and soldier poet who wrote:

Poems are made by fools like me, But only God can make a tree.

London—Portias must be careful to wear sombre hues in court. Judge Tobin, 74 and bachelor, gave warning when a woman bartender came before him in a dress of light color and without the professional robe. But Portia was clever. She explained her appearance was without notice and she was allowed to plead.

Orleans, France—Mlle. Augustine Agogue must walk to the guillotine barefooted wearing a black veil. She has been sentenced under the code Napoleon for killing her mother.

Moscow—Anna Luboshitz, well known cellist, gives a concert tonight. Admission, six pounds of junk! Rags, bottles, rubbers, cans or anything such will do. It is a stunt to advertise the government's campaign for the collection of waste material.

New York—Dick Merrill, mail flor, has a flying school. His pupils are all squirrels. His pets take off and land on tables and chairs in his apartment. He plans to take them on regular flights with the mail on the Atlanta-Richmond run.

New Haven—A publication of the

New Haven Railroad corrects an announcement by the road that John Coolidge originated the name "Yankee Clipper" for a new train between New York and Boston. C. F. Caley thought of it. John wrote out a list of suggestions by various employees. Then an assumption was based on the handwriting.

London—Recognizing the interest of its readers the London Times intends to be up-to-date. It is starting a daily cross-word puzzle.

New York—Three years ago Samuel Konefsky, blind, came from Russia to join his father, who came ten years ago and was naturalized. The affliction prevented Sammy from accompanying dad. Sammy has been graduated at the head of his class in a Brooklyn grammar school, the Vaedictorian. He is 15 years old.

London—There's a terrible complication for the naval conference to solve. France and Italy need space on all warships for the storage of winecasks. Therefore, the tonnage must be greater. It doesn't mean much on a battleship, but there are submarines to think of.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence

You men who would keep trim and fit... you women who covet the tantalizing curves of the truly modern figure—when tempted to do yourself too well, light a Lucky instead. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

CLIPS AND OPINIONS.

What happened in New York the other day calls to mind the well-known old saying that "the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church." Some 300 Communists gathered and sought to hold a meeting in the park fronting the City Hall. They had no official permit, but that did not stop the police from "run amuck" (such is the report in the crowd) clubbing not only Communists but in the confusion persons who had merely stopped to see what was going on. Innocent bystanders as well as Communists were beaten and in some cases had to be treated by physicians. It is stated that not even women were immune from attack of the persons actually arrested all but one had to be dismissed for lack of evidence against them. How different and how much more effective was President Hoover's refusal to permit the Communist parade before the White House to secure a "cheap martyrdom" that would advertise and forward their cause. We hear no more of Communist parades in Washington.

The effort to change people's opinions with clubs, or with rifles and machine guns for that matter, more than defeats its own ends. If political agitators are let alone, nobody but a few idiots pay any attention to them and they are deprived of the precious claim that they are rugged and persecuted. In more ways than one the too often blundering exercise of authority in this "free" country is creating feelings of outrage and a spirit of revolt among the people that bodes ill for the continuing stability of our institutions and a future of contentment and peace.

THE BORDER PATROL.

The dispatches state that the proposal to police the Canadian border with an additional army of 10,000 men has not been favorably received in Congress or in Army, Navy or Coast Guard circles. Protest is particularly emphatic among Congressmen from the border states, between which and Canada there is much inter-mercantile. Although a dry, Representative Hudson of Michigan submits that "we have not gone crazy." The obvious fear is of the probable results when 10,000 more border guards become too quick on the trigger in their hasty blundering. It is pointed out that there will be increased hampering of business, increased danger to innocent crossers of the line, and more liability that pleasure boats on the lakes and the St. Lawrence will be fired on by machine guns. The foreseen difficulties are the greater because Canadians as well as Americans are likely to become victims, with international complications to follow.

The yearly crossing by American tourists alone is enormous and ever increasing. According to an estimate made public by the Royal Bank of Canada, more than fifteen million tourists, chiefly from the United States, visited Canada last year, their estimated expenditures there being $300,000,000. Canada has become vastly popular among American tourists in recent years and the migrations going and coming will steadily increase in volume. Under such circumstances an increased patrol and a determined effort to prevent small smugglings can not fail to result in fatalities that will shock the country and add to the growing insistence of the question as to whether the game is really worth the candle.

Child readers of old-time story-books, who envision a King in an ermine robe and a gold crown, seated in majestic aloofness on a glittering throne, are likely to be disappointed to find that somehow the romantic glamour of the thing has faded, when and it told that King George appeared at the disarmament conference in London in a frock coat and striped trousers, and that he shook hands and spoke in an easy, friendly manner to all he met. Just as a President of the United States or of France would have done. But King George V has been called "a royal democrat" perhaps not merely because of his intelligent recognition of the changed conditions of these times, in which Great Britain is in all real essentials a democracy, no less a personage than its present Prime Minister having begun life as a miner.

George Bernard Shaw would appear to be a vegetarian determined to preach his views out of season or a remarkably discourteous and ungrateful personage. In declining a banquet recently proposed in his honor he is said to have written: "A dinner! Horrible! I am to be made the pretext for killing all those wretched animals and birds and fish! Thank you for nothing. Now if I were to be a fast instead of a fowl, say a solemn three days' abstention from corpses in my honor, I could at least pretend to believe that it was disinterested. Blood sacrifices are not in my line."

Although Russian territory covers about one-sixth of the world's surface, Russia was not invited to join in the London naval conference. It seems that this together perhaps with a certain amount of general "cussedness" has caused the official Soviet newspaper to attribute selfish and unworthy motives to every nation participating, including the charge that the United States "proposes to use the London conference as her next step—after the Kellogg pact—along the road to world hegemony."

THAT BODY OF YOURS

BY

 GRADUAL REDUCING IS SAFE.

You are overweight and have decided to take off a number of pounds so as to get "just right" according to the weight and height tables.

Now if you were thin at one time and have accumulated the extra weight simply by eating and gradually taking less exercise, then forget about thyroid extracts or other "quick" methods of reducing.

If you are in good health, and are say 30 pounds overweight, decide to take off about 24 pounds, leaving on about six pounds as a sort of safety valve. Decide further that you will take it off in six months, 4 pounds a month.

The best and easiest time is during the cool weather when you would naturally eat considerably more than in warm weather. You can cut down a larger percentage when you are eating more. And the foods to cut down on mostly are the fats, the sugars, and the starches.

Do not cut down on meats or eggs. They satisfy the appetite better than other foods, and repair worn out tissue. In older folk cheese and milk can sometimes take the place of meat and eggs.

You see, you have plenty of fat in your body anyway, so if you do not eat fats (cream, butter, animal fats) then your own fat must supply the body needs and supplies them well, giving plenty of heat and energy.

The starches—bread, potatoes, sugar, pastry and so forth—should be cut down but green vegetables and fruits should take their place, as they not only supply heat and energy, but also supply vitamins and prevent constipation and tendency to acidosis.

Your body needs water. Water has most important uses in the body—for the blood, digestive juices, keeping gliding surfaces moist and so forth—but as most overweight folk have tissues that hold more water naturally than those of thin folk, they can really get along with less water than they think they need. Taking a quart or glass of water every time you think you need a whole glassful is a simple but effective method of keeping down the fluid intake.

And then as to exercise. Most overweight individuals hate the word exercise.

Together with a natural disinclination to take exercise, there is the fact that when they exercise they have more weight to move than others and this lessens the desire to take the exercise. Further they have considerable fat in and about the region of the heart and in the abdomen beneath the floor of the chest and thus heart and lungs are a little crowded with the exercise taken.

However wearing heavy woollens, covering the whole body and doing some bending and twisting exercises will cause a more profuse perspiration and reduction comes faster.

A QUESTION of HONOR
 by Ruth Cross

"The supply gates—shut the supply gates!" Glenn shouted.

The foreman flew to the supply gates, began straining them to— with the aid of a dozen or more of the ranch owners, who were stunned to speechlessness at sight of the catastrophe which they had unwittingly brought down on their own heads.

Glenn himself took some dynamite from a cache, seized a saddle horse which had been tethered not far away and had broken loose at the sound of the explosion, leaped on it and forced it into the stream of water from the reservoir—already a roaring torrent. In a flash he had formulated a plan—the old washout—if the water could be diverted somehow into that channel—

In the flood his horse floundered helplessly and seemed again and again on the point of going down, but Glenn kept urging him in a sort of zigzag course towards the opposite bank. Glancing back once over his shoulder, he saw another horse and rider.

At last with a supreme effort, Glenn forced his mount to a landing—urged him to a mad gallop. When he dismounted a few minutes later at the foot of a sharp, jagged promontory of earth and rock which seized from both sides and from behind as the mob hurled the barricade. He dropped his useless rifle, put his back against a stack of cement bags and closed fast to flat with his assailants.

Glenn struck and parried with only one eye on his attackers; the other was fixed intently on the dark silhouette of the dam. He knew the exact spot where they would try to plant the dynamite—if they succeeded, the wall could never be rebuilt.

One of his men went down with a swift well-placed blow under the chin, but another came up to take his place. Suddenly a knife flashed in the darkness. Glenn seized the arm that drove it. Something snapped. There was a roar of pain, a volley of curses in Mexican.

For a breathing space, Glenn stood free of his harrying pack, but before he could stir, he heard Burkhalter's voice at his elbow, "Here you, clear out—you can leave him to me!"

Glenn turned just in time to brace himself. Burkhalter rushed at him, head down charging as a bull charges, caught him between the legs, bore him backward, his great bulk on top of him. Glenn struggled up, reeling and swaying.

A figure was moving now toward the dam, running swiftly, bent close to the ground. It was the Mexican, Tony. Glenn heaved desperately at Burkhalter, who was trying to pin him against the bags of cement, strained him back for a moment, but the giant was on him again like lightning.

The furtive figure had deposited its burden now, was stooping back as stealthily and more swiftly even than it had gone. A thin, malignant red flame licked out into the darkness—at the very heart of the dam. A cry of warning went up. All along the line, men turned to flee for their lives. Burkhalter loosed his hold at last on Glenn with an abruptness which sent the latter reeling backward. Before he could regain his feet, someone shot past him toward the dam in a long, easy lunge. It was Shab!

Close at Shab's heels Glenn saw the old prospector stoop, pick up the charge, lighted fuse and all and fling it as far as he could send it. It just missed cleaving the wall—struck at the farther end. For a moment, the sky was ablaze with flame. Then the ground, the great wall, the mountains, the whole earth seemed to reel and rock, to quiver and—finally to stand still again.

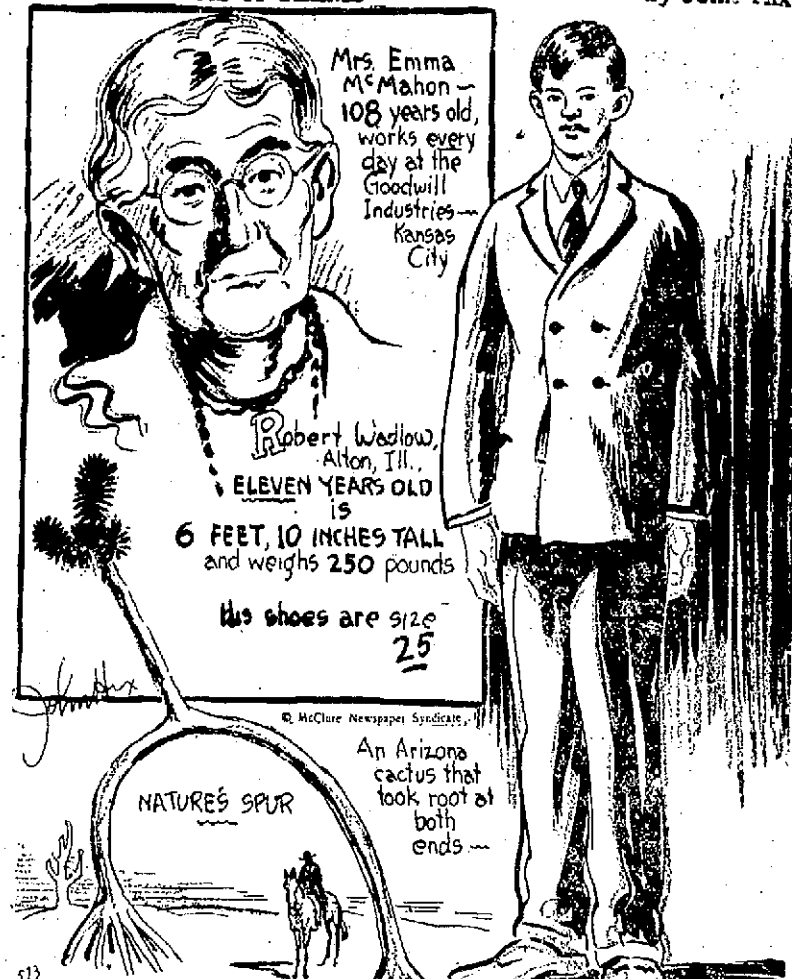

Lord Dyring To Africa for Health. London, Jan. 30 (P).—Lord Dyring, commander of the Canadian corps for a time in the World War and later governor-general of the dominion, leaves Southampton today on a voyage to South Africa. He hopes to regain his health after illness which forced him temporarily at least to drop his duties as chief commissioner of metropolitan police and head of Scotland Yard. Medical advisers have forbidden him to carry on any official correspondence. According to present arrangements he will return to London in May.

WHY

Uncovering the Head Is a Mode of Salutation

It is believed that the custom of uncovering the head as a mode of salutation originated in military practices of the ancients. In the days when men wore heavy armor a man would take off his helmet or headgear to show that he was not afraid to stand with head uncovered in the presence of another; it was an act expressive of confidence. Later it became customary to remove the head-dress to show deference to a superior or as a mark of respect to a person of distinction. It was only a step further to lift the head-dress to ladies as an act of politeness and gallantry, and finally this became the general method of saluting or greeting ladies. The practice still retains some of its earlier significance, and many people still take off their hats to salute distinguished persons, and respect for the national flag is shown in the same manner. Quakers do not believe in raising the hat. According to George Fox, says Macaulay, a Christian was bound to face death itself rather than touch his hat to the greatest of monarch, male or female. "When Fox was challenged to produce scriptural authority for this dogma, he cited the passage in which it is written that Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego were thrown into the fiery furnace with their hats on."—Pathfinder Magazine.

Why Chautauqua Salute Is Waving Handkerchief

Remember the first time as a child when you became aware of the "Chautauqua salute," which means handkerchief waving? Chautauqua, as an educational and inspirational name, was evolved by Lewis Miller of Greensboro, Ohio, fifty-five years ago. And Chautauqua recently celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of his birth, says World's Work. The Greensboro idealist was inventor of the Buckeye reaper and harvester. Henry Ford used to set up these machines back in 1895. William Jennings Bryan advanced the cult of Chautauqua saluting when he spoke over the United States, and Maude Adams adapted it to her famous portrayal of Peter Pan. Over in England when Peter and Wendy reappear each Christmas holiday season you do not wave handkerchiefs to show that you believe in fairies—you clap.

Why Saturday Is Holiday

An official of the New York city department of education says: "It is my understanding that the origin of Saturday never began in the cities, but in the rural sections of our country. It is my understanding that it originated in the colonial days, when there were very few Jews in the community. I believe Saturday began as a holiday in schools, because the children on the farms had to help with the work, so that Sunday might be observed by the family. They had to bring in provisions for the Sabbath and help in the home so that they might start out to the nearest church which was usually miles away."

Why We Say "Scot Free"

The expression "scot free" meaning to "get away with something," to escape without paying a penalty, is an interesting remnant of medieval days. "Scot" is a perversion of the Anglo-Saxon "sceat," which meant "to pay." And in the days when our language was still in the making each man had to pay to his immediate superior his "lot" or tribute. Hence the old legal term "scot and lot." If a man chanced by fortune's favor, to get off without paying his tribute, he was said to be going "scot free." And the expression, altered as it is in meaning, has come down to our day.

Events Around The Empire State

(By The Associated Press)

Albany (AP).—At the end of December there were 695,236 cotton spinning spindles in place in New York state, of which 599,042 were active during the month, with an average of 151 active hours per spindle, according to figures given out by the United States Department of Commerce.

Malone.—When the New York State Troopers search a man they overlook nothing. In the case of George J. Wright, they found $160 in his wooden leg.

Ticonderoga.—Toll collections on the Lake Champlain bridge between Fort Frederick, N. Y., and Chimney Point, Vt., totaled $33,713.25 to January 18, despite the seasonal decline in automobile traffic, according to Mortimer Y. Ferris, chairman of the Lake Champlain Bridge Commission. Since August 26, 1929, when the bridge was opened 32,773 motor vehicles and 1,452 pedestrians crossed the bridge.

Glen Falls.—Russell M. L. Carson of Glen Falls was elected president of the Adirondack Mountain Club at its annual meeting here last week. Other officers elected are: Honorary president, George D. Pratt, New York; vice president, John P. Rogers, New York; Harry W. Hicks, Lake Placid; Merwin K. Hart, Utica; corresponding secretary, Preston E. Percharon, Albany; recording secretary, Nellie Holmes, Binghamton; treasurer, John Christy Bell, New York.

Hornell.—Richard P. Thatcher of Canisteo will not take part in any more amateur rodeos on his farm. He is recovering from a fractured skull, sustained when he attempted to show his son how to ride bareback in true western style.

Lyons.—What's a little matter like a zero temperature to a good healthy pansy? Philip Spearman is exhibiting two large blossoms picked from his garden within the past few days.

SHOKAN.

Shokan, Jan. 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Justus North are the proud parents of a daughter, born Sunday, January 26, at the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston. The little girl has been named Nabor.

Jean and Bobby Spaletta, two bright youngsters from the metropolis, are spending the winter with their grandmother, Mrs. Jane Stubby, at The Cairngorm.

Those farmers who tapped their maple trees on Tuesday report a good run of sap. The maple sugar season may prove a successful one after all, though the fact that there is little or no frost in the ground is quite likely to militate against a big run in early February. After the warm weather of two weeks ago the snow came on before the ground froze very deeply, and the earth, thus blanketed, was not greatly affected by the extreme cold weather of last week.

Saturday, January 30, 1887, marked the passing of Mrs. Mathilde (Snow) Davis, wife of Alvah F. Davis. Funeral was held February 2nd, at the Reformed Church. Mrs. Davis was the mother of Homer Markle of Shokan and Mrs. Shepard Bell of West Shokan.

George Bryant of Marlville called on friends here last Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant were married in Shokan on January 21. Mr. Bryant was formerly a store manager in Newark, N. J., but since last summer he has been engaged in general farming at Marlville.

Francis and Doris, little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Burr Elmen-dorf of Main street are quite seriously ill of the whooping cough. The disease seems to have hit some of the children in this section pretty hard.

The Reformed Church people are all set for their party which is to take place in the church basement on the evening of January 31. This affair is held in the interest of the playground fund and should be well attended. A silver offering will be taken up.

Charles Schipp, master mechanic at Lyons' garage in Ashokan, was in the village recently, "talking up" the new model Chevrolet. Charlie is a good salesman and has, moreover, a first rate working knowledge of the cars which he is demonstrating.

On January 31, 1866, the funeral took place of Miss Eva Hoyer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darius W. Hoyer of Brodheads. Services were conducted by the Rev. Ambrose Quick in the Methodist Church of Shokan. Miss Hoyer was a very popular young woman and her funeral is said to have been the largest ever held in the Methodist Church.

Miss Bertha Green reports a successful season with her poultry thus far. Although she does not keep a large flock, Miss Green nevertheless is noted for the regularity with which her hens produce eggs during the winter months, year after year.

As is usual at this time of the year, milk is getting scarce in Shokan and vicinity. Farmers are drying up their spring cows and as very few dairymen have cows fresh in the fall, the next few weeks will mark the annual low tide in milk production.

Music in History
The history of music goes back to antiquity. Even the primitive races have some forms of music and in ancient Egypt, Assyria, Greece, China, etc., there was considerable development of music and musical instruments. There are records of the harp in Egypt before 3000 B. C. Of course it is impossible to say who was the first musical composer or when music was first composed.

NEW OLDSMOBILE ON DISPLAY AT SALESROOMS

Coincident with the opening of the Kingston Auto Show at the armory today, Oldsmobile-Viking dealers throughout the county have been supplied with new 1930 Oldsmobiles to display at their places of business.

Owing to the lack of space at the armory it was impossible to show the complete line of Oldsmobiles and Vikings for 1930. However, supplementary displays are being made at the various dealers' salesrooms.

Three models of Oldsmobile and one model of Viking are on display at the armory—an Oldsmobile special sport coupe in Florence and Glenheim blue; an Oldsmobile standard four-door sedan with natural wood wheels in Indian blue; an Oldsmobile Super Deluxe sedan in Indian blue; and a Viking four-door sedan in sabbie with a trim of coach painters' green.

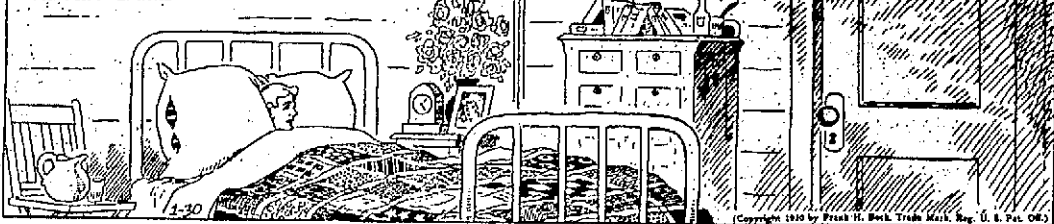

At the salesrooms of Southard & Deichert, Broadway at Field Court, there are on display a two-door sedan in Serrana green with five wheel equipment; a standard two-door sedan; a standard coupe in Chastillon gray with natural wood wheels; a four-door sedan in Estrada blue; and a Viking four-door sedan.

Thomas H. Elliott, New Paltz representative, has on display at his Central Garage a Super Deluxe Patriotic sedan and four-door sedans. L. E. Danols at Ashland is showing at his garage, Danols Corner Garage, a four-door sedan, special four-door sedan and special two-door sedan. Oscar Snyder, Oldsmobile-Viking dealer at Saugerties, is displaying two-door and four-door sedans. Neher's Garage at Port Ewen is showing a four-door sedan as is Milton Garage at Milan.

E. A. Spencer, New York zone manager of Oldsmobile-Viking, is expected to attend the show Friday. It was through his efforts that antileak cars were shipped into this territory to make possible displays at all strategic points.

WILL SPEAK ON INDIA AT CHURCH OF REDEEMER

The speaker at the morning service of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer Sunday will be the Rev. Dr. C. H. D. D., a veteran missionary of India. Because of his many years of active service in India, Dr. D. is an authority on India, a country which is at present occupying the limelight because of the movement there for independence. The mission there is one of the most important of the United Lutheran Church. Its field in India is as large as Belgium and has a population of nearly 6,000,000.

In each thousand there are 898 Hindus, 55 Christians and 44 Mohammedans. Of each 55 Christians 21 belong to the Lutheran Church. The congregation is particularly interested in India because of the fact that the Bible school is supporting the congregation at Badepalem, India. Dr. D. will also address the Bible school at which time he will tell the scholars about their work at Badepalem. Dr. D. is a very energetic speaker, and with his wide experience the congregation is looking forward with anticipation to a profitable service Sunday. Dr. D. will speak in Sanskrit in the evening. Pastor Brandt will occupy his pulpit in the evening.

Family Day will be observed February 9 when the families of the congregation will sit together in the morning service. A sermon on the home will be preached by the pastor.

PRINCESS CELEBRATES "HAPPIEST LOVE MATCH"

Predael, Rumania, Jan. 30 (P).—Princess Ileana, 21-year-old daughter of Queen Marie, today personally announced her engagement to Count Alexander of Hochberg, second son of the Prince of Pless. In an enthusiastic speech to male and female students at a celebration here the princess said her's was "the happiest love match."

The princess added humorously that "the attachment was the result of a mishap of fate."

She promised to continue to watch over charities and the girls' homes which she had created. A committee of the students later handed a gold plaque to Count Hochberg, her fiancé, in recognition of his sportsmanlike qualities.

Count Hochberg is second son of the Prince of Pless, head of a small German principality, and is 25 years old. His engagement to Princess Ileana has been rumored occasionally for several months, but reportedly official announcement of it was delayed while some way was sought which would allow the princess upon her marriage to keep her title of princess.

Princess Ileana visited the United States with her mother in 1926.

DEAF MUTES GET COLLEGE TERMS

United States Provides Higher Education for Girls in Washington.

Washington. — More than forty young girls from thirty-five states are wards of Uncle Sam at a school occupying one of Washington's finest college properties.

These girls wear short skirts, bobbed hair and look and act like any other girl of their age. But all are deaf and some also are mutes. But for this institution, the Columbian institution for the deaf, subsidized by the government, they could never get college training. No other school in the country gives college work to deaf boys and girls.

The problem of training the girl graduates of this school so they can find jobs when they go out into the world, has become complicated. Uncle Sam has been asked to provide additional instructors so they can learn to be business women.

Some Trained as Teachers. Boys who are their fellow students have less difficulty making a place for themselves, but the girls are finding it increasingly hard.

Some are trained to be teachers of the deaf. This heretofore has been the chief avenue of employment for deaf college trained young women, but state deaf schools are more and more inclining to "hearing people" as teachers. There are nearly 3,000 jobs of this kind scattered over the country, but only 400 are filled by deaf girls.

Some of the girls take library work and are employed in large libraries and scientific institutions, where filing and classifying can be done by them as well as by normal young women. Others learn expert dressmaking; some teach in the winter and work in the alteration departments of large stores in the summer.

Ask Business Teachers.

The management of the school is asking the government to provide business teachers and business school equipment so the deaf girl students may be taught to run adding, calculating, mimeographing and other business machines. At present typewriting instruction is available, but not a complete business training.

The annual graduating class at this institution is very small—12 to 15 in all, including boys and girls—but teaching positions absorb only four or five of the girls each year, and for the rest there is the problem of finding some means of becoming independent. They come from thirty-five states and are awarded free government scholarships after passing special examinations. They are sixteen to eighteen years old when they enter, and they spend five years getting a college course which is taught normal boys and girls in four years.

Ring, Lost 30 Years, Found in Jersey Sewer

Brightwaters, L. I.—A ring lost more than thirty years ago by Milton Sears, who died in 1900, was returned to his widow, Mrs. Emma Sears, after it had been found in a sewer in Paterson, N. J. The ring, upon which was embossed a Masonic emblem, was inscribed with its owner's name. When a laborer found it, he turned it

Eight Injured in Most Powerful Bomb Explosion

Chicago, Jan. 30 (AP).—Two men, both employees of the Checker Cab Company, were shot to death early today in the Rogers Park section, while police on the north side were investigating the most powerful bomb explosion they ever dealt with. The blast wrecked a wholesale grocery house.

One of the men killed was believed to be Frank Anders, a cab driver. The other was Barney J. Mitchell, treasurer of the company.

Rogers Park police had little information as to the cause or manner of the shooting. Labor trouble was suggested as a possible cause. There has been no recent flareup of taxicab warfare, such as from time to time has occurred between drivers for rival cab companies.

A considerable section of the north side last night heard and felt the bomb explosion. Eight persons were injured. Several families were driven from their homes into the near side night. The property damage was estimated at $100,000.

The building was occupied by John P. Culotta, a company wholesaler, grocer. Culotta gave police two letters, each demanding $5,000 in cash under threat of death. The letters were written in Italian.

Witnesses said the explosion was so terrific that the building seemed to rise several feet in the air, then crumble. Buildings for two blocks around were damaged. Passengers on a street car half a block distant and patients in the Alexian Brothers Hospital two blocks away were alarmed.

The bombing was the fifth within a 30 hour period, not including an unsuccessful attempt to kill Pat Roche, special investigator for the state's attorney, by placing a bomb in his automobile.

Culotta received the second of the threatening letters yesterday and turned both over to police. Two officers were guarding his home, several miles away, when the bomb destroyed the store. Police explained that the letters indicated an attempt would be made against Culotta's life rather than the store.

Mrs. Frank Ritz, living in a third floor apartment of a building across from the bombed store, was knocked unconscious when a radio loud speaker was flung across the room, striking her head.

Tenants of buildings in the neighborhood sought shelter with friends for the night, the breaking of windows making it impossible to keep out the severe cold.

"UNCLE SAM AT YOUR SERVICE"

(All rights protected by the George Matthew Adams Service—Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office)

Again and again, the amateur radio operator has demonstrated his great value as a means of emergency communication to disaster-stricken communities. While other countries are discouraging the few surviving amateurs they have, Uncle Sam is endeavoring to keep his large and useful group of experimenters engaged in useful and interesting work.

He has licensed over 16,500 amateur stations. During 1929, the Radio Division (Commerce Dept.) examined 3,163 applicants for amateur permits; 220 inspections were made of amateur stations. These non-professional radio men are often the sole "inter-world touch" for many exploring parties. Two-way communication has been established between amateurs in America and in Europe, South America and New Zealand, some "pick-up" 50 foreign countries. They now seek to duplicate by voice, the records they have made by radio-telegraphy.

Commercial radio, telegraph and telephone, now link us with all nations and with ships at sea. Three international radio conferences during 1929 were attended by the Radio Division in the interests of the United States. This division is a "clearing house" for all monies paid on radio message tariff between ships on the ocean and shore stations on both American and foreign coasts. Currently, it balances the accounts of American radio companies with the accounts of radio companies of other nationalities; receiving and paying the differences in cash. The United States government has not only fostered the development of broadcasting and wireless, but is leading the way in establishing a "World Wide Network."

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (ad.)

PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

New-Fashioned Cars with the old reliable name of GRAHAM

Complete Protection of Shatter-Proof Plate Glass in every model at every price at no profit to dealer or factory

This announcement signals the appearance of a new line of motor cars, bearing alone, for the first time, the name of the three Graham brothers.

It is likewise the occasion of a proposal so unusual that nothing even remotely comparable to it has ever occurred in the motor car industry.

Deeply impressed by the necessity of providing motorists with a positive safeguard against the frequent occasion of accident and death, the Grahams and their dealers celebrate the advent of these cars by foregoing all profit on a complete protective equipment of shatter-proof plate glass.

The Graham brothers endeavored faithfully to fulfill their stewardship to the Graham-Paige properties, dealers and owners, by a progressive policy which constantly produced better cars.

Now, with the obligation of a product bearing only their own name, their chief ambition is to be worthy of the public confidence of the past and a greater measure of confidence in the future.

Rewards

Recently I read that a Chicago gun-boat has been linked with so many murders that rewards for his capture are $100,000. There are probably hundreds of detectives who make a profession of going after reward cases who are now on his trail. But some are else may capture him—a traffic policeman might arrest him for speeding, for example. And if this happens the traffic policeman doesn't know about the rewards, he is out of luck. He might hear about the police afterward, but in most states he could not bring suit to get the money. So long ago in New York a taxicab chauffeur found what he thought was a string of imitation pearls. As a matter of course he turned the pearls over to his employers, and they found the owner. The string was worth $50,000, and a reward of $5,000 had been posted. Since the chauffeur made no claim at the time he turned them in, he had no legal right to the $5,000. But the overjoyed owner gave it to him anyway.

Exit Shoestrings

The Wall Street crash accomplished one good thing at any rate. It drove to cover dozens of shoestring theatrical producers. These gentlemen, for the most part inexperienced in the ways of the stage, rely upon "angels" to put up the money for their ventures. They are called shoestringers, but often they spend huge amounts of some one else's money. In the old days a cloak-and-suiter felt rich enough to take a lift at the stage, but now he has retreated, and Broadway is slightly safer for the real producers. But only slightly. It's an off season, and many real producers are taking vacations.

Winecrack

There is, as is usual each season, one of those half-whimsical, half-dramatic A. A. Milne plays at the tiny Charles Hopkins theater. This time it is about two very nice people, one of whom commits bigamy. All Milne people are very nice, from Winnie the Pooh on up, and the bigamy in this case is quite the right thing to do. But I am digressing. What I wanted to tell about is a line that amused me. Edith Barrett, the wife, is trying to get the attention of Henry Hall, the husband, who is reading a book. Finally she asks:

"Is that one of those books that, once you have picked it up, you cannot put it down?"

"No," replied Hall. "It is one of those books you cannot pick up, once you have put it down."

Wrong Book

The new Theatre Guild play, "Me, too," tried out in Boston recently, with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in the principal roles. The business of the play calls for the use of a first edition of a very rare old book. To get a copy was out of the question, so another very old book was used. One day the company received a package and a letter from a Boston bookseller. The letter explained that the writer had seen the play, and had noted that the book being used did not look like the first edition of the work it was supposed to be. "It is the wrong size," he wrote. "I am sending you another old book whose general appearance and size are closer to the original."

New Poor

The recent stock market crash has put on the lists of charity organizations persons who never before had dreamed that they might be objects of charity. But a wrong slant on the situation might be got from a cartoon I saw recently, depicting a man accepting alms from a woman. "Poor fellow," said the benefactress. "Stock market, I suppose?" "No," replied the object of charity. "I was always a him." The persons who are now asking for help are not investors and former big men of Wall Street, but such folk as artists who have lost their commissions, servants who have been let out, tutors and music teachers and the like. The family that has suffered in Wall Street goes on an economy program, and the retrenchment affects the hirelings.

Great American Rivers

The Mississippi proper is about 2,000 miles long, 2,161 of them navigable. From the mouth of the Mississippi to the headwaters of the Missouri, however, is a distance of 4,200 miles, and 2,082 miles of the Missouri may be navigated. The navigable tributaries of the Mississippi number 45, and the entire system offers 16,000 miles to traffic. The area drained is 1,257,545 square miles.

Slaps Sister; Saves Her From Strangling

St. Louis, Mo.—George Geary, thirteen, proved himself a hero when his quick thinking and acting saved his five-year-old sister from choking to death. She fell and a small ball she had in her mouth lodged in her throat, shutting off breathing. He sought to dislodge the ball with his fingers and failed. Then he picked her up, slapped her on the back and dislodged the ball as she was losing consciousness.

BOY SCOUTS TO ASSIST AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

Kingston Post No. 159, Boy Scout Troop No. 10, who are ever ready to do a good turn, will have charge of arranging the tables for the American Legion Auxiliary card party, to be held on Saturday afternoon, February 1.

Ladies who have promised to read their card tables to be used for the party, are requested to kindly have them at the building, on Friday afternoon or evening.

Many reservations have already been made, and the committee in charge are putting forth their best efforts to make this affair a great success.

It is one of the yearly activities that Kingston Unit depends upon for its revenue. The public is very cordially invited to attend.

Indian Ruler Famous for Astronomical Study

There lived in India, in the Seventeenth century, a ruler known as Maharajah Jai Singh II, and being keenly interested in astronomy he erected a series of structures which, though not now used for practical purposes, constitute the most unique astronomical instruments in existence. He appears to have collected all kinds of astronomical books, and sent some workers to foreign countries to gather information. Having determined the kind of instruments required on which to make the necessary recording of the movements of the heavenly bodies, he selected five places in India as the centers in which the observations should be taken. The first he built at Delhi, and then others in Jaipur, Ujjain, Benares, and Mathura. The observatories in Delhi and Jaipur have been carefully restored. In addition to a number of metal instruments he erected large masonry instruments, some of them as high as 90 feet. Very careful records were made of the observations of his staff of workers, and modern astronomers have expressed surprise at the valuable information thus collected. The ruler responsible for these interesting instruments died in 1743 and his wives, consorts and science expired with him on his funeral pyre.

Falls of Niagara as

Father Louis Hennepin saw Niagara when he went West to the upper Mississippi with La Salle's expedition in 1679. He had a poor eye for distances, for in successive narratives he measures Niagara's height as 500 and 600 feet, instead of its maximum of 162, but he had a flair for vivid word pictures:

"Between the Lake Ontario and Erie there is a vast and prodigious cascade of water which falls down after a surprising and astonishing manner, in torrents that the universe does not afford its parallel. The true Italy and Switzerland boast of some such things, but we may well say they are but sorry patterns when compared to this of which we now speak. . . . It (the River Niagara) is so rapid above the descent that it violently hurries down the wild beasts while endeavoring to pass it to feed on the other side, they not being able to withstand the force of its current, which inevitably casts them down headlong above 600 feet. . . ."

From Bad to Worse
A rich old Chinese mandarin had two wives. Said the first to him one day: "I wish you had not so many gray hairs. People leer at me and call me an old man's darling." "In that case, my dear," he said, "I will pull them all out." And he did so. Shortly afterwards his second wife came to him complaining that now he had only black hairs on his head, she looked, by contrast, a horridly old woman. "Don't worry, my dear. I will pull them out," he said soothingly. But when he had pulled out all the gray and all the black hairs the mandarin was completely bald. And neither of his wives would have any more to do with him.

Chalk That Up

Pat O'Hara and Mike Murphy (who strangely enough, were Irishmen) had taken jobs at a colliery. Pat one morning broke his shovel when he was down in the mine. He was too lazy, however, to take it to the surface with him, so he left it for his friend, writing on it in chalk:

"Take my shovel out, Mike, I've forgotten it!"

But friend Michael knew Pat of old, and refused to be caught by such a trick. So he rubbed the message off and substituted one of his own:

"Take it out yourself. I've never seen it!"—London Answers.

ROSE BEIGE LACE FOR CHIC BLACK LINGERIE

New York—The romantic note which has crept into fashions, sifts through to charming underthings and extends way into the night whether one is in one's ball gown, nightie or pajamas. There are certain points of similarity between these—the lavish use of lace for instance and the return to embroidery motifs by way of variety.

Night dresses have not subscribed to the extreme lengths of evening gowns, but their hems are often irregular, lace edged or flounced, and have some admission of a waistline and often a belt.

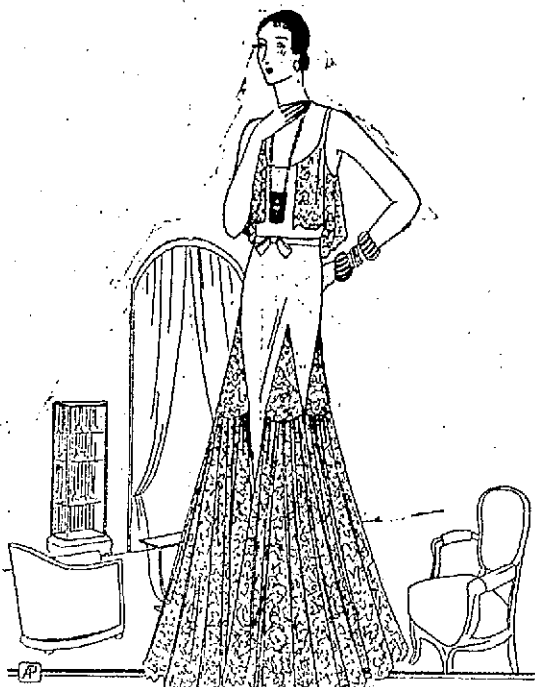

Color retains its prestige in lingerie with peach and apricot, blue and tan and all sorts of tones including orchids and blue rivaling flesh which was for so long the reigning tone. There are women who have a penchant for sheer black underthings and these are especially effective when completing an all black ensemble.

ble. In fact many contend that black lingerie is the only possible choice with a black evening frock. The practice of introducing an added color by lace is carried through in a collection of altogether charming black lingerle, rose beige and coffee colored Alencon being used with stunning results on black chemise and gown sets. Since lace is so lavishly used as is the case at the moment, it is not surprising that two kinds are employed in some sets, or that lace with point d'Esprit or with chiffon applique is used. There are some indications in lingerie circles, that Valenciennes will be revived, but these some quite buried under an avalanche of Alencon and kindred types.

FREEMAN WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Probe $38,000,000 Prison Program

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 30 (AP).—Republican legislative leaders said today the first hearing in the party's prison investigation convinced them the whole question of state policy regarding prison construction should be more carefully considered before the state launches itself upon the proposed prison program entailing an expenditure of some $38,000,000 for a comparatively short period of years or before further appropriations are made.

Speaker Joseph A. McGinnis and Senator John Knight, majority leaders in the upper house, issued this statement. The type of building which convicts in New York state are to be housed also should be given further study, the statement said. The hearing began yesterday.

The witnesses brought voluntarily to the hearing by the Prison Association of New York and other agencies were unanimously agreed on many points that appeared to be in variance with the present state's prison policy, the statement added.

"This appears to us to be more important even than the apparent lavishment of money for the new prison at Attica."

"Especially is this true since it appeared from the testimony introduced that other states have launched upon expensive prison programs only to find that their plans were faulty and not in accordance with modern practices."

The investigation brought out the fact that the cost of building a prison was to cost about $5,000 per inmate. Prison construction experts testified they considered a figure between $3,000 and $5,000 to be reasonable for an institution of 1,000 capacity.

The experts suggested a possible point of cutting costs would be the elimination of the use of tool steel for some of the cell blocks. They held this unnecessary in view of the 30-foot wall proposed for the prison.

Other estimates in the cost of the Attica prison, which were attacked by the experts, were the proposed $70,000 warden's house, and the estimated cost of $264 per running foot of the Attica wall.

The hearing was adjourned to February 5.

CAT WITH RED HAIR EXHIBITED AT SHOW

A cat said to be the only one of its kind in existence was exhibited recently at the cat show at Croydon, England, by H. C. Brooke. Instead of one of the familiar cat colors of black, white, gray or ginger, this remarkable feline is dark red from head to tail, like a human head of deep auburn hair. Red patches or bands have been observed in other cats, but this is the only individual, Mr. Brooke asserts, in which the coat of hair is entirely red. Just how the red haired cat happened is not disclosed, although assurances are given that no chemical trick is involved, but that the animal comes naturally by its unusual hair.

The animal is a full grown male and shares the supposed quick temper of the red haired humans, being exceptionally inclined to bite and scratch. The red hairs are produced in the same manner as in human beings; that is, by partial deficiency of the black or brown pigment granules which give the colors to dark hairs, plus a relative excess of the other pigment which may occur in hairs, reddish or yellowish in color, and existing diffused generally through the substance of the hair instead of collected in granules.

The Political Secret

By LILLIAN MOSSELLER
(Copyright)

BILL CASSIDY put the cover on his typewriter and closed his desk. Tomorrow the whole world would be let in on what had been a political secret and his paper would be the first to divulge the news because he—Bill Cassidy—had been quick witted and on the job.

Only Bill knew the secret. Only Bill? Well—not quite. He had told his girl in the strictest confidence. She would never tell, wouldn't she? Simpson had trusted Dellah. Well, this girl was not that sort. She was not a vamp—she was not tricky. She was just a simple, sweet, beautiful—but he was beginning to feel a little uneasy.

Well, he had told her, and that was that. She had not invited his confidence except by her habit of reticence—yet the words of his secret had poured into her ears. She had beauty without vanity—charm without guile—could she keep a secret? Tomorrow the world would know, but today no one must know. A political secret divulged to a woman! A scoop for the press—his scoop! What inherent weakness in him had made him respond to that impulse to tell? He had always been so absolutely sure of his strength where women were concerned.

Yet Simpson had been sure of his strength until Dellah cut off his hair! Was Margaret—lovely Margaret—his Dellah? No. She had not wanted his secret. She was not to blame—she had protested that she did not like secrets—they were a burden to her. Perhaps that was a trick to get it out of him—women—even the best of them—were full of tricks—they were born that way! Well she had gotten it out of him—shame to her! He would go to her. His secret must not be divulged this night! When morning came the news would be broadcast, but he must somehow, some way, keep her from seeing anyone tonight. She had had time—even now to let a word slip—just a few words and he would be ruined. His imagination traveled dark highways.

He had wanted to marry her. He had planned to ask her when the Big News—his political scoop—was flashed over the world. Then he would get a raise—then they could marry. But she was a reporter, too. She was on an evening paper—perhaps she had used his—no, he couldn't think that of her—she might let it slip in a familiar, stupid way—but she wouldn't use it to advance herself—wouldn't she? Simpson had trusted Dellah!

He hurried to Washington place where he must walk up six flights of stairs before he could reach her apartment. He stood panting and out of breath as he rang the bell. She did not answer. The bell must have been out of order. He tried the knob. The latch had not caught and the door opened. He stepped into the corridor and paused.

Margaret was in the next room, talking. Only some heavy portieres separated them. He had not intended to stand there and listen but her words electrified him—suddenly there was murder in his heart!

"He told me a secret," he heard her say quite distinctly and she laughed delightedly. "He told me a secret." There was a pause. "Tomorrow, the whole world will know," her voice was so low he could scarcely hear—"and tonight, only you and I know—except—"

So she had divulged it! Perfidy, the name is Woman!

"Darling," she continued in a warm, resonant voice. "It is you, I love—you only!" There was a sound of a long kiss. He clinched his fists.

"A wordless thing of beauty, that comes to fill the soul of me, in love. Love that is brought to me by you, dear. Love come not to me until you came. For only you could bring me love."

Bill groaned audibly. She had said the same thing to him with her eyes—that very day.

"Who is there?" she cried in terror. He flung aside the curtains. She was seated upon the rug in front of the fireplace with the firelight shining on her hair. She was alone. Bill glanced around the room quickly. Had the devil escaped? He looked at the girl who was as still as though she had been turned to stone. She was clasping something to her breast and looking at him in consternation. He stooped and snatched it from her. Then he wilted. His anger left him. He was filled with shame. He knelt beside her. She had been holding his photograph—she had been talking to him.

"Oh, Bill, you heard?" She hid her face on his shoulder. He raised it to his. Her beautiful mouth was soft and responsive and her hair was a golden halo about her head.

"Bill, dear," she told him, when she was able to speak. "I discovered I really loved you when you told me the secret. Most men think women are capable of nothing but seduction and guile. Bill, it thrilled me through and through to learn that you really trusted me!"

"Oh, Margaret!" Bill looked at her with adoration in his eyes. "Oh, Margaret!"

Depressing Perfection
There are homes so bleak and span that their very atmosphere lifts you to higher levels and instills in you a great longing to upset an ash tray.—Life.

Calvanism and Church Unity

Judge Clearwater Will Give Views of A Calvinistic Fundamentalist on Moot Question.

The Kingston Ministerial Association will hold its regular meeting at the Church of the Comforter on Friday at 12 o'clock noon. A luncheon will be served by the ladies of the church.

Adopting the suggestion offered by the Moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Scotland at the Jausanne Conference that the clergy invite an expression of opinion from men of the world as to the advisability of a general church unity of all denominations, the association has asked Judge Clearwater to address its members on that subject and he has accepted their invitation.

Since for many years, far and wide, the judge has been regarded as a Calvinistic fundamentalist, his views upon the proposed denominational merger should be of interest both to the proponents and the opponents of a question which at the moment, greatly agitates the entire Christian world.

MANY NOVELTIES IN RAPID HOSE MINSTREL.

The olio or second half of Rapid Hose minstrel show, which will be staged Monday and Tuesday evenings, February 3 and 4, at Kingston High School auditorium, will be one of the most novel offerings ever staged here, according to Director Edward V. Barton, who coached the firemen's successful minstrel last year.

Barton has arranged four novelties for the olio, featuring the "Darktown Fire Brigade". There are ten characters in the skit, which promises plenty of comedy. Other numbers in the second part of the show are a song and whistling novelty by the Misses Marie Duffy and Jennie Entrot; the saxophone twins, Richard Kallish and Howard Thomas; a sister team, featuring the Misses Lillian and Evelyn Curran, who made a big hit in the Jacobson Company minstrel last year.

The minstrel part of the show will contain plenty of song hits, jokes and dance numbers, featuring some of this city's best black face entertainers. Eddie Barton, Johnnie Doolin, George Reis, Johnnie Fisher, Tommy Dolan, Ray Schatzel, Frank Strobel and Carl Spiegel all have parts in the program.

Harry Zellmer, well known amateur showman of this city, will occupy the feature role of interactor.

Rondout Creek Ice Too Thin

Former Alderman John A. Fischer said today that as soon as the ice field in the Rondout creek attains a thickness of eight inches he will start the work of harvesting an ice crop for his ice house on Abeel street. The ice today was slightly over seven inches in thickness.

The Binnewater Lake Ice Company is still busy harvesting 10 1/2 inch ice from the Fifth Binnewater, work having been started earlier in the week.

RUNAWAY BOY SURRENDERS SELF TO OFFICER BROPHY

Wednesday evening while Officer Brophy was patrolling his beat Charles LaFlaier, 15, of Syracuse, walked up to him and said he wanted to give himself up. The boy said he had run away from his home in Syracuse. The boy was placed in a private family for the night, and his folks will be communicated with today.

Black Walnut Valuable

The black walnut provides good shade, grass grows well under the tree, the nuts are palatable and salable, and the lumber when the tree is felled is valuable.

7 Hours in Bed and Not 7 Minutes' Sleep

The Toll Acidity Takes

When you go to bed dog-tired and can't sleep and you rise in the morning more tired than when you went to bed, a sign you're "acid." Excess acid, found in the stomach as a result of our unwholesome eating habits, causes acid indigestion, gas, nervousness and burning in the stomach which saps our strength and vitality and so taxes our nerves that we sleep at night or work efficiently during the day.

Magnesia Oxidiz, developed in Germany by a famous, 100-year-old pharmaceutical house, corrects acidity in the right way. You correct with the acid in the stomach. Magnesia Oxidiz generates neutral, active, oxygen. The "live" oxygen stimulates the alkaline gastric mucus, checks the free action in the gastro-intestinal canal, stimulates the activities of the internal walls which aids the natural movement of the bowels. All three effects are necessary to the true correction of acidity.

5-Day Acidity Test

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this test. Get a package of Magnesia Oxidiz from McEride Drug Store or any other good druggist. Take two after meals for a few days and see how you feel. You will feel—how much more sound you sleep and how much more energy you have. If you don't get more than minor results, return the balance of the Oxidiz to the druggist and he will refund the purchase price promptly and in full.

"Dividends" That Are Never "Passed"

Interest on savings accounts in this bank represents a sound, safe return—a "dividend," as it were, that is never "passed."

Straining after big returns leads to speculative investments—the kind where both principal and interest may be unsafe.

The policy of this bank is to invest only in securities which assure safety of principal. They are moderate-paying investments, but returns are sure.

Under this policy a 4½% interest rate for our savings depositors means safety for their savings and sureness of a sensible, safe return.

Deposits made on or before February 4th, will draw interest from February 1st.

General Secretary Willard E. Rice of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union, will be the speaker at the annual banquet of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union which will be held in the parish house of the Reformed Church of the Comforter on Wynkoop Place on Friday evening, February 7, at 6:30 o'clock. Navajo Indian Lore

The Smithsonian Institution says: "The Yebchah are nature gods of the Navajo whose chief function is healing the sick. The so-called Yebchah dance is a ceremony for this purpose. Up to some years ago representations of the gods were painted in colored sands at the ceremony and wiped out at the close. Later, the Navajo began to weave the Yebchah figures in rugs for sale. These rugs are usually made on a hand loom. This may easily be told if the designs are alike on both sides as to form and color. Such specimens were never common."

Tin Cans Salvaged

Salvaging millions of tin cans around Western mining camps has been found a profitable business. The process recovers both the tin and the steel, an average of three tons of tin being recovered weekly and molded into ingots to be used for making new cans.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

FAT MAN Walks Ten Miles

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles.

If you will take one-half a teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 20 days.

You will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

Why will Kruschen Salts make this great change for the better in me—it is natural for you to ask.

Because Kruschen is a blend of the 8 dissolving salts Nature says your body must have to keep every organ, gland and nerve in the body buoyantly healthy.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will grow clearer and your eyes will sparkle with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one 5c bottle of Kruschen Salts: it will last you 20 days. After you have taken one bottle the old you will want to hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work and active recreation and you'll sleep like a top.

You'll lost fat and probably live years longer. Get Kruschen at Medicine Drug Stores or any live drugstore in America.

Alfonso Gets Revenge at Last

London, Jan. 30 (AP).—The London Daily Express today under the heading "King Alfonso's Revenge" printed an article by its special correspondent at Madrid, B. J. Greenwald, purporting to give the "secret history of the present Spanish upheaval."

The writer says: "King Alfonso accepted General Primo de Rivera until one day about three years ago when there was a dramatic scene in the war office."

"The king had motored from San Sebastian to Madrid but when he was going through mountains a posse of artillery officers held up the royal cars in a pass known as the Lions Gorge. The king heard their grievances concerning delayed promotions and promised them redress. "When he arrived at Madrid he confronted his dictator. There was a stormy meeting during which the dictator told his king that unless the monarch accepted his advice, he, Primo de Rivera, would declare himself the first president of the first Spanish republic."

"The king accepted the ultimatum, and since had lived his time. Now he has once again obtained the upper hand."

Madrid Crowds Orderly

Madrid, Jan. 30 (AP).—Numerous heavily armed squads of police patrolled streets of Madrid today to curb with an iron hand Republican manifestations and demonstrations by students or others opposed to the new premier-designate, Lieutenant General Donoso Berenguer. All police carried small carbines.

Possibly in view of the elaborate precautions against disturbance the city was quieter than at any time since resignation Tuesday of General Primo de Rivera, for six years dictator.

Crowds collected in cafes and other places to discuss rumors of selections to fill the portfolios in the new cabinet of General Berenguer. They were orderly and showed no disposition to side with the more radical students who Wednesday morning fought almost all day with the police.

Why We Say "Labyrinth"

Back, back, far back indeed must we travel for the story behind the word "labyrinth" with whose meaning we are acquainted as a reference to a maze or a complicated, tortuous situation.

For it is after the Egyptian king of the twelfth dynasty named Labyris that we have the modern English word "labyrinth."

It is because of his pet pastime of building what we know as the Egyptian labyrinths that we have our word to bring back to our minds people and things of thousands of years ago.—Kansas City Star.

Baby Drowns Sailing Toy Boat in Bathtub

Washington.—Seventeen-month-old Frank Edward Donnell's desire for more water in the bathtub in which to float his miniature sailboat caused his death. The child was found submerged in nearly a foot of water by his mother, Mrs. Melba B. Donnell, after sounds of the baby's play had ceased. The fire department rescue squad and emergency hospital physicians worked over the body for nearly an hour before Dr. M. L. Helges pronounced the child dead.

Market For Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Jan. 30.—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—Florida strawberries were in short supply in the wholesale district this morning. The demand was moderate and a large volume of trading on the best berries was consummated at 60 cents per quart basket and 30 cents per pint. Shipments of strawberries from Florida dropped to 50 cars during the preceding week, or about one half of the quantity of the previous week.

The preliminary estimate of the 1929 strawberry acreage is 183,880 acres compared with a harvested acreage of 199,980 acres in 1929 and 206,920 acres in 1928, or an 8 per cent decrease compared with 1929, and an 11 per cent decrease compared with 1928.

The market continued firm on state old crop cabbage. Supplies were moderate and the demand was fair, most of the jobbing sales on white, as reported at $5.00-$5.50 per ton and at $4.00-$5.00 on the red. Holland cabbage packed in hampers of $2.25-$2.50 for white, and $3-$3.25 for the red.

Willys-Knight 66-Big custom sedan for five passengers. Car has six wire wheels and trunk rack. One of the features of this machine is a beautiful dash with compact mountings.

The inside circle of the show starting from the front north side includes the following cars:

Nash and Durant.

The Van Kleeck Motor and Garage shows Nash and Durant models at their spaces. Immediately behind those allotted to the accessory dealers.

There is shown one of the new two-light models, a very attractive car done in green and yellow with natural wood wheels. The sedan is a five passenger car and beside this model there is a two-light and a single-light six. The Durant showing is of two 6-14 models, one a blue five-passenger sedan with yellow wire wheels and a coupe done in the same color combination.

Adjoining the Nash and Durant showing to the west is the Ford. James Millard & Son Company have three cars on the floor. All of the Ford models are of the new 1930 model A type. There is a blue roadster with two spare tires mounted on the side and a yellow convertible coupe with black fenders. A very deep maroon paint job is shown on the Ford deLuxe model sedan which concludes the Ford showing. This sedan is one of the most up-to-date models ever put out by Ford. It has all of the body refinements of the most luxurious car including even a dividing arm rest in the rear seat.

Two makes represent the Stuyvesant, Garage, Packard and Plymouth. There is a Plymouth five-passenger sedan and four DeLuxe model Packards shown. All of the Packards of course are eight. There is a seven passenger deep maroon 7-40 model Packard, a gray five-passenger sedan done up in nickel trim and very attractive with its nickel rims and other bright parts. On the 7-33 chassis is shown a very attractive blue job. This car, a five-passenger club sedan, is painted a dark blue with contrasting black trim and the disc wheels are of nickel color contrasting with the darker body.

The fourth Packard on display is a convertible coupe on the 7-33 chassis. This car is also painted in a very popular deep maroon with black trim, fenders and running gear. Contrasting with the color combination is the khaki colored top and tire covers.

The Packard models have the DeLuxe equipment which includes two spares mounted in fender wheels on the sedan jobs.

Over on the east side of the armory at the upper end is the showing of Forsyth & Davis Motor Car Company. Three cars are displayed and the new Oakland V-8, Pontiac and Pierce-Arrow. Two of the five passenger sedans are shown in the Oakland line, one a deep blue with a lighter blue trim and light tinted louvers, while the other Oakland is a five passenger sedan in a deep maroon with lighter red trim and bright, dashing red wire wheels. The Pontiac model is a sedan done in blue with straw hair-line trim and natural wood wheels.

Pierce-Arrow also shown by Forsyth & Davis Motor Car Company is a large sedan, black with a deep green trim and wood wheels.

Buick and Marquette.

The showing of the Kingston Buick Company includes one of the new roadsters on the big 132 inch wheelbase. This car was new at the New York auto show and created quite a degree of comment. It is a big sport roadster mounted on the longest of Buick chassis, painted a deep red and is equipped with wire wheels. There is also shown a five passenger sedan on the 113 inch wheelbase, a Marquette coupe in a dashing gray with natural wood wheels and a five passenger Buick coupe on the 132 inch wheelbase. The other model of Buick shown is a seven passenger sedan with wire wheels on the big 132 inch chassis.

Chevrolet, which has the first space on the right of the main aisle as one enters the armory is one of the few open cars shown. Colonial

City Chevrolet is showing but two cars. One is a sport model roadster with orange wire wheels and the other is a five passenger sedan job. In addition to the two cars shown there is a very interesting display of parts. The vital parts of the Chevrolet six are shown mounted on a parts board where they may be examined and inspected as to mechanical details.

Since the accessory dealers have a more difficult time in assembling their booths and placing their displays a review of what is shown will have to be made at a later time. The accessory men were busy getting their displays in shape for the opening and all were confident that they would be ready on time.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould

(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

It remains a very popular pastime in the more wide open areas to lambast the erstwhile, to accuse him of nearsightedness or astigmatism vision in his outlook upon athletics anywhere else, to regard him as hidebound in the moss-covered traditions (for example) of the Old Big Three.

The charge in many cases may be quite true, just as there may also be a few hoary old prospectors that persist in the belief that "Ular is gold, partner, in them hills." Yet it would seem that the erstwhile who has not been disillusioned as to his ideas of athletic supremacy in the light of western performances either is somewhat grumpy from punishment or a subject for examination.

It is therefore perhaps surprising to find this statement in the attack made upon the good faith of the Carnegie Foundation's report by Prof. Ralph W. Alger, chairman of Michigan's Board in Control of Athletics:

"In a number of places in the Bulletin the so-called Western Conference (now the Big Nine) is referred to and curiously, almost always with a sort of half veiled sneer. The truth apparently is that the Bulletin was written from the point of view of the Eastern athletic man, who has it pretty firmly fixed in mind that, athletically, things are pretty raw in the territory generally west of the Alleghenies."

Not even the most astigmatic erstwhile can fail to blush a trifle in a casual reading of the famous Carnegie Bulletin "23". Closer study may go so far as to furnish a shock. The colleges most severely arraigned by the report are largely in the east.

"Nor is the abuse of subsidizing and recruiting, condoned by any means to any particular sections of the country," asserts the report on page 225. "In the mid-west, the inter-collegiate Conference (Big Nine) regarded by many as the most thoroughly controlled of all conference bodies, has repeatedly called for preventing and subsidizing its most serious problem and events in the spring of 1929 (concerning Iowa) clearly demonstrated this fact. On the Pacific coast, the larger institutions, having expanded much intellectual effort to control the abuse, are even now attempting to arrive at an equitable solution through common understanding. From similar cases the Southern Conference in by no means free. . . . In the Rocky Mountain Conference sentiment in favor of recruiting recurrently strikes certain institutions with full force. Parts of Pennsylvania and the adjacent territory have long accepted and openly practiced it as indispensable to victory in football."

Of the 28 colleges given a "clean bill" by the Carnegie Report, 12 are in the east, seven in Canada, five in the mid-west, three in the south and one in the far west. Of the eight so-called "major colleges" in this collection, however, three each are from the east and mid-west, two from the south.

Phil Scott's "sneer punch," brought back from England for his fight with Jack Sharkey at Miami, remains a deep mystery. The London Freeman's readiness to go into details for the benefit of ship-news men was abruptly cut short by his American manager, James J. Johnston, going on the theory that what the boys do not know about Phil for the time being will be so much the better for the ballyhoo and the gate receipts on February 27.

Y. M. C. A. Five at Port Ewen Tonight

Tonight at Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, the Spiny Radio Five will mix it with the strong Y. M. C. A. quintet of this city. The game will start at 8:15 and from that time until the final whistle sounds there will be plenty of action, according to the contestants' desire to win.

Spiny's team is all set for the "Y" and the boys representing that organization also are tuned to the finest degree for tonight's contest. Both quintets went through several workouts in preparation for the battle which promises to be one of the most interesting played this season at the Port Ewen hall.

The battle array of Spiny's outfit will be picked from the following roster: Dan Joyce, "Blind" Van Etten, Wes Hyatt, Bill Smith, H. Johnson, Earl Terwilliger, A. and J. Short.

Following is the list of players from which the Y. M. C. A. quintet will be picked: Chet Fox, Norm Niles, Hank Krum, Hank Dittus, Joe Glass, Joe Dulle, and Joe Hoffman.

Previous to the feature there will be a game between the Port Ewen Men's Club and the Y. M. C. A. second team. The meet gives the fans will enjoy. There will be dancing after the games with the Moonlight Revelers furnishing the music.

Sunday School League Scores

In one of the battles in the regular weekly brace of the Sunday School Basketball League games Wednesday night at the Y. M. C. A., the Redemers defeated the Congregationalists, 27-15, and thus settled the controversy as to which quintet should occupy first place in the league standing for the second round of the circuit. Before the game both were tied with two wins each.

Results of the other games that made up Wednesday's program were: Comforters, 25, St. John's 5; Freshmen, 25, St. Paul Five, 19.

Noted Pitcher Leaves Baseball

ARTHUR N. Nehf, who pitched in five world's series, has retired. After a conference with William Veeck, president of the Chicago National League Cubs, the veteran southpaw pitcher announced his retirement. He will act as manager of the Salt River Real-Estate holdings and the Arizona Billmore hotel at Phoenix, both owned by William Wrigley.

Nehf, who is thirty-eight, began his ball career with a Terre Haute (Ind.) high school team. After playing college ball at Rose Polytechnic Institute he played in the Copper league in Michigan. Within three years after leaving college he was with the Boston Braves.

The New York Giants paid $55,000 and five players for him in 1910. During the ten years he was with the Giants he pitched three games in the 1921 world's series and allowed only twelve hits.

After holding Pittsburgh hitless for twenty innings Nehf allowed two runs in the twenty-first inning for a 2 to 0 score.

During the eleven games of the five world's series in which he performed Nehf pitched two 1 to 0 victories.

In September, 1927, he joined the Cubs. In 1928 he won thirteen games, losing seven. Last season he won eight and lost five.

Elder Captures Series Prize

Newark, N. J., Jan. 30 (AP).—Jack Elder, hero of many exploits in football and track for Notre Dame, has tasted defeat for the first time this season, but he did not allow the taste to linger.

Last night at the St. Joseph's Catholic Club games here, Elder lost the first race of the Rupert F. Mills memorial sprint series to Jimmy Pappas, former Princeton star, now wearing the colors of the Newark A. C. Pappas sprinted to a slim victory in the 50-yard event in the comparatively slow time of 5 4-5 seconds, but Elder came back to win at 60 and 70 yards and capture the series prize.

Elder won by margins of four and six feet, falling by a fifth of a second to equal the world's record of 5 1-5 in the 60-yard dash.

Phil Edwards, making his last appearance in the violet jersey of New York University in the 1,000-yard event, defeated Ray Conger of the Illinois A. C. Edwards ran the 1,000 yards in 2:14 4-5, just two seconds back of the world's record and won by a 15-yard margin, while Conger was barely able to take second place from J. C. Blake of the Boston A. A.

Most of the other stars had easy victories. Eddie Hall, of the Newark A. C., former Colgate star, set a new meet record in the 600-yard dash, winning in 1:13 2-5, 1 1-5 seconds better than Johnny Glison's old mark.

Fred Sturdy of Yale took the pole vault with a leap of 14 feet, four inches, while his leading rival, Victor Pickard, Canadian Olympic team member, and Barney Kieringer, of the University of Pennsylvania, tied at the 13-foot mark. Gus Moore, University of Pittsburgh near ace, had a runaway triumph in the mile handicap.

MOHAWKS CLUB WINGS OF LONE EAGLES.

The Mohawk quintet recently defeated the Lone Eagles 11-9 at the Y. M. C. A. Zachary of the winning team did the highest scoring of the game. He made six points. Port gleaned five for the Lone Eagles.

Sure of Pitching Staff.

New York, Jan. 30 (AP).—The Brooklyn Robins are sure to have a pitching staff of sorts for the 1930 season if nothing else. Four hurlers were reported by the Rubin management today to have signed their contracts. Kent Greenfield, who was purchased from Boston in the middle of last season but who saw little service, is the only veteran. The others are Clarence Blithen, who was brought up from Atlanta near the end of the 1929 campaign, John Kridler from Macon, and Ray Phelps from Jacksonville.

John M. Cates, director of athletics at Yale, announced that Adam Walsh, the coach, will be a member of the Yale coaching staff in 1930. The announcement was made for the purpose of putting at ease those who had thought that Walsh was intending to leave Yale to accept one of the several more remunerative positions which he has been offered recently.

English sportsmen are determined to keep his big game hunting sportsmanlike. The earl of Onslow recently drew the attention of the house of lords to a practice of hunting big game by motor car in certain parts of Africa. Lord Passfield, secretary for the colonies, said that legislation was to be introduced in Tanganyika to make the punishment for hunting from motor cars imprisonment and confiscation of the car and equipment.

Fred Aschek of Lakewood, Ohio, former University of Michigan star, who was recently signed by the New York Yankees. He stands 6 feet 5 inches, weighs 215 pounds and up to now has had no professional experience. He is a right-hander.

Heilmann Is Expected to Be Great Help to Reds

Dan Howley, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, expects to rip National league pitching apart next season with Harry Heilmann. He has made up his mind just how he is going to play the former Detroit Tiger slinger to get the best use of his heavy hitting.

"Heilmann," Howley was telling Cincinnati admirers recently, "slams that ball on a line. Sometimes it goes on the ground straight at a player. That is to be expected. More times it goes over the heads of the infielders, and it goes far and fast."

"Heilmann's legs give him trouble in a long campaign, so I plan to let him rest as often as I can, only using him steadily when we are fighting to get out in front. When we get the lead I will put Walker in."

"Punch is what the Reds want, and Heilmann has the punch. Harry has promised to give his all to the club next season. Bob Meusel, I am sure, will be glad of the opportunity where he can shine in the outer gardens, where his worth will not be dimmed by the brilliance of Ruth and Conks."

Kingston Plays Liberty Friday

DUSO League Battle Gives Promise of Being Fast Game—Liberty Has Strong Team.

Kingston High School basketball squad will battle with Liberty Friday night in the local high school gym in a DUSO League game. Liberty entered the league this season with Ellenville. Liberty has a strong aggregation this year. It had one of the best high school teams in this section of the state last season. The Maroon squad played them last year in the section tournament which was held at Middletown.

The Maroon and White team has two of the leading scorers of the league. "Bob" Cullum leads the list of individual point getters while Captain "Al" Blackwell is second. Both of these men have keen eyes and play a steady game. Coach King has forwards who work together. Cullum with his mate Fuchslo have attracted much attention this season. Post and Van Dusen also have proved themselves potent in the cage game. It seems these boys gather in the points at will. Parks and Clarke two of the best high school guards in the Hudson Valley are seldom taken from the game. Captain Blackwell in center has not been taken from a tilt this season. Altogether, Kingston has one of the best teams representing it, that it has had in years.

HIGHLAND TO MEET ALBANY WHIRLWINDS.

Highland Hose Company's basketball team will play its regular weekly game at Smith's Hall, Highland, Friday night against the Albany Whirlwinds, a fast aggregation from the capital city. It is expected that many will witness the cage battle. It will be followed by dancing.

Stone Ridge Beats Y. M. H. A.

The Stone Ridge quintet outscored the Y. M. H. A. Five of this city by the close margin of 32-20 Wednesday night at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls. Effective shooting put the Ridgers in the lead during the first half, which ended 21-8 in their favor. The Kingston boys went strong during the second half, but failed to overtake their opponents. Joggers, of the Stone Ridge team, who scored 13 points, was the highest individual point maker of the game. Balinky with nine markers led the Y. M. H. A. Malsenholder's Commanders played for dancing after the game.

Velocity in Falling
Actual experiments conducted by the Army Air corps have demonstrated the fact that an object falling from an altitude never attains a velocity greater than 118 miles per hour. This velocity is reached within a period of 11 seconds, and after falling 1,200 feet in quiet air. The acceleration of a falling body is progressive. It is 16 feet the first second, 48 feet the second second, 60 feet the third second, and so on.

Prizes Awarded at School No. 4

Two memorial prizes and three prizes given by the Parent-Teacher Association were awarded in the assembly Tuesday morning at School No. 4.

The Matilda Stock Cordis memorial prize of five dollars in gold was awarded to Ruth V. Carle, who received the highest average in her Regents' subjects. Miss Carle's average was 85. This prize is donated by Mrs. John N. Cordis of Lindley avenue.

Donald McCausland won the Jessie M. Parkhurst memorial prize of five dollars in gold. This is awarded to the pupil who receives the highest average below the Eight A grade. Master McCausland's average was 88 1/2.

The spelling prizes donated by the Parent-Teacher Association were won by Gilbert Kraus, Gertrude Kogler and Donald Kent. Each of these pupils received a new two dollar bill for securing 100% for the term. These young people are to be congratulated for their efforts.

Leslie Munson, a recent graduate from No. 4 School, was neither absent nor tardy for eight years. This is rather an unusual record and one which have the health and perseverance to attain.

WILL REPEAT PRIZE WINNING PLAY FEBRUARY 7

Plattekill, Jan. 30.—The entertainment planned for February 1 at Plattekill Grange has been postponed to Friday night, February 7.

The program will be presented in two parts. Part one will consist of a series of musical selections, dramatic readings and monologues given by people of talent. Part two will consist of the presentation of "The Madcaps", the one-act play which won in the inter-county dramatic contests. The final contest will be held at Hlaca on February 12, when the winning play in the state will be selected.

Tickets for the entertainment are for sale by a committee of Grangers and should be secured in advance, as the sale of tickets is limited to the seating capacity of the hall. Refreshments will be on sale. A full evening's entertainment will be presented and promises to be most enjoyable.

Locusts Turn on Planes

Locusts recently turned on those who have been attempting to drive them out of India and Egypt. They have been attacking the airplanes, and have filled the radiators and engines so that the pilots had to descend to avoid overloading. One aviator who went up to scatter a swarm of the insects was forced down, and found that one of them had been drawn into the air-intake pipe.

Natural Gas Consumption

In 1922 725,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas were produced in the United States. The value of this natural gas was $190,000,000. In 1927 the production had increased to 1,445,428,000 cubic feet, which was an increase of 102,400,000 cubic feet over 1926.

THE DAREDEVIL

Why We Do What We Do
by M. E. THOMSON, Ph. D.

WHY WE GIVE ALMS

CHARITY and giving alms is an ancient virtue. It has been practiced ever since man first learned to share his food and shelter with his fellow man in want.

The most obvious motive for giving alms is to relieve need and suffering. No doubt human sympathy and fellow feeling play an important part. Those who are not very far removed from the poor beggar are more sympathetic and give alms while the rich man is more likely to give to institutions rather than to individuals. This sympathy is humanitarian rather than personal.

We also give alms for the satisfaction that comes from doing something for somebody else. Unconsciously we are somewhat elated to find a person in less favorable circumstances, and are glad to give him something for making us feel better than we did.

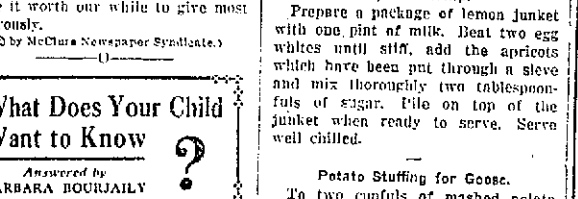

With some there is the purely mercenary motive of giving in order to get something in return as expressed in the saying that if you cast your bread on the waters it will return to you after many days. Reward in heaven if not on this earth is a strong motive for giving alms to those who think of heaven as a place of reward for good deeds to their fellows on the earth.

But by far the strongest motive for giving alms although the least conscious one is that of giving in order to relieve ourselves of an emotionally unpleasant situation. The beggar has made us suffer by a kind of physical and reflexive sympathy, and apparently the only way to allay that feeling is to give the poor devil something and go away satisfied that you have done your part. Otherwise your conscience will trouble you. Those pleading eyes, or the crippled body will haunt you. For this reason the beggars usually appear pitiful enough to make it worth our while to give most generously.

What Does Your Child Want to Know?

Answered by BARBARA BOURJAILY

WHY DOES A LOW NOISE SCARE US MORE THAN A HIGH ONE?

Our ancestors so long ago had animals to fear—A low noise sounds much like the growl Of creatures prowling near. (Copyright.)

Architectural Education

It is a liberal education in architecture for a visitor to journey through the towns of New England. Dotted throughout the countryside are countless early and beautiful American homes, still standing stanch and firm against the weather, still imparting the charm only time-worn things possess.

Not Purely Honorary
While the honor of receiving the "freedom" of a city is one of a purely personal character, the recipient can also claim several advantages. After the recipient has been presented with the customary cusket and parchment scroll, he is entitled to pecuniary assistance from the city should he fall on evil times. He is also supposed to be exempt from compulsory naval or military service.—London Mail.

What Congress Is Doing Today

(By The Associated Press)

Senate:
Continues debate on tariff bill.
Interstate Commerce Committee hears Walter S. Gifford of American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Lobby committee hears representative of silk association of America. Indian committee continues hearings on relief bills.

House:
Takes up Cramton bill to create George Washington Memorial Parkway along the Potomac river. Expenditures committee continues consideration of prohibition transfer in executive session. Appropriations sub-committee continues work on navy and deficiency appropriations bills. Immigration committee takes more testimony on proposal to place new world immigration under quota basis. Agriculture committee takes up food relief in executive session.

HEALED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. I had decided my only hope of recovery was an operation. Everything I tried did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely healed my rupture. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I will give full information about how you may find a complete recovery without operation if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 778-B E. Marcellus Ave., Manassas, N. J. Butter out out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured; you may save a life or at least stop the misery of the rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Cuticura for PURITY

Keeps the hands soft and smooth
Your hands can be well kept, by bathing them with a Soap that is more than a cleansing soap. CUTICURA does its work thoroughly. It is antiseptic, effectively removing all the causes of irritation; it is soothing and healing. Try CUTICURA now—and watch results!

Fruit Mince Meat.
Squeeze the juice from four lemons and cook the peel until soft. Remove the white pulp and put through the meat grinder, then rub through a sieve. Add two chopped apples, one pound of currants, one-half cupful each of chopped nuts, raisins, butter, two cupfuls of sugar, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, ginger, allspice and salt. Mix the ingredients well and store in jars. Use as a filling for turnover pies; serve with hot coffee or chocolate for skating parties.

Plum Pudding.

Take one-fourth pound of suet finely chopped, one-half pound of raisins, one-half pound of currants, one-eighth pound of candied lemon peel, one-fourth pound of candied orange peel, one-half glass of currant jelly, one-fourth cupful of fruit juice, five beaten eggs, one-fourth pound of finely shredded almonds, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half pound of sugar, two-thirds of a cupful of bread flour, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg, and three-fourths teaspoonful each of soda and mace. Combine as usual and steam in molds six hours.

Frozen Mystery.

Boil together two cupfuls of water and two cupfuls of sugar five minutes, cool, add one pineapple, the pulp and juice of two oranges, two lemons, two bananas rubbed through a sieve. Freeze to a mush, add two egg whites and a pinch of salt, eggs beaten stiff, then finish freezing.

Apricot Whip.

Prepare a package of lemon junket with one pint of milk. Beat two egg whites until stiff, add the apricots which have been put through a sieve and mix thoroughly two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Pile on top of the junket when ready to serve. Serve well chilled.

Potato Stuffing for Goose.

To two cupfuls of mashed potato add one teaspoonful of grated onion, one-half cupful of chopped walnut meats, one teaspoonful of grated onion, one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth cupful of cream, one tablespoonful of butter, two eggs and one teaspoonful of poultry dressing. Mix and use as any stuffing.

Fruit Salad.

One of the prettiest of salads if carefully prepared is apple, grapefruit and orange. Remove the sections of the citrus fruits, free from all membrane. Cut the apple in a bright red skin one, in eighths, or in the same size as the grapefruit sections, without peeling. Arrange the fruit sections with the apple between on lettuce. Serve with any desired dressing.
